

Important Questions to Ask Your Processing Company

1. What measures do you have in place to ensure the processor billing remains correct each month?
2. Will I get reimbursed for any errors found on my processor billings?
3. What measures are in place to prevent my rates from being increased?
4. Is there a way to keep my current proprietary solution and processor, but still save money?
5. Do I call your company or the processor when I have a service issue?
6. Do you provide cost estimates for various processing companies and solutions or just your provider?
